A FRICA'S LAKE REGIONS.

DIVISION OF THE COUNTRY BETWEEN

ENGLAND AND GERMANY.

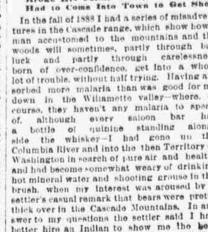

A Map Showing Their New Spheres of Influence and the Partition of Central and South Airlea Among the Powers—Great Significance of the New Arrangement—England Holds Her Own in the Scramble.

The settlement of the territorial claims of Great Britain and Germany in the African lakes' regions is an event of unusual significance. All the coasts of Africa have for some time been parcelled out among the nations of Europe, but it was not until instweet that the country of the great lake regions was also divided. There is nothing left to divide, for, in spite of Portugal, England will not reliable for in spite of Portugal, England will not reliable for the straight the predominating influences that will shape events in the lake regions are perhaps determined for agos to come.

This map shows the results of the past month's conference in Berlin, and also the division of that part of Africa lying south of 5 north latitude among the past month's conference in Berlin, and also the division of that part of Africa lying south of 5 north latitude among the past month's conference in Berlin, and also the division of that part of Africa lying south of 5 north latitude among the past month's conference in Berlin, and also the division of that part of Africa lying south of 5 north latitude among the past month's conference in Berlin, and also the division of that part of Africa lying south of 5 north latitude among the past month's conference in Berlin, and also the division of that part of Africa lying south of 5 north latitude among the past month's conference in Berlin, and also the division of that part of Africa lying south of 5 north latitude among the past and down and a fine for the past and a fine for the past and the past and lake regions. Three years ago England and Germany agreed upon their spheres of influence in Fast Africa. They drew the line which appears upon our map extending from a little north of Zanzibar to the northeast coast of Victoria Nyanza. They agreed that the region north of the line should be the British sulere of influence, and that the country south of it should be the German sphere. They both promised not to initude upon one another's domain. They thought, if the chooses to take it. On the coast the situation has been greatly improved from the English point of view. The little

A Rapidly Growing Country, Showing Unusual Advantages for the lavestment of

The recent dulness in Wall street has caused investors to look in other directions. Many Eastern capitalists have turned their attention to the new States of the have turned their attention to the new States of the West, profiting by the example of the many who have enriched themselves by judicious investments in the rapolity growing cities. Among all the new States west of the Mississippl which have attracted the attention of the world by their marvellously rapid development south Dakota is pre-eminent. She is less than a year old, but she exhibits a record for superior to any other State at that age. In addition to this her resources are greater and more diversided than those of any other greater and more diversibled than those of any other State. She has a soil that is wonderfully productive, she has coal ficial that are inexhaustible, she has the finest tin mines in America, she has quarries of stone that rival the porphyry of keypt or the onyx of Italy, she has enough treasure of gold and silver hidden away to make all the world rich. The finest horses, sheep and cattle in the country are raised in South Pakota, all the great railroad waters of the country are run-to make all the world rich. The finest horses sheep and cattle in the country are raised in Bouth Dakota. All the great railroad existents of the country are running their lines through this new scale, and she is projecting new lines of her own.

The metropolis of South Dakota is Slong Falls. Ha location corresponds to that of timaha, and it is the gateway of the State. Although the growth of Slong Falls has been phenomenal, it is substantial. The buildings are of stone and from The streets are paved and the city has all of the modern improvements.

There are street railway and steam instor lines, electric light, water, and gas works. A new acking house is in process of eraction which is a tractic and line in traces a ferection which is a tractic and line and present louise will be built this year. Should have a capacity of twenty dve humored hops pressing over Stoots, and the street was the street of the new Facilio Midland Raitroat, which will be, by 250 miles, the shortest route from Chicago to the Pacinic coast. Almost the entire growth of Slong Falis has been during the last try years, and yet she has a population of nearly 20,00 people.

The history of Omaha will repeat itself in Slong Falls. There is land at present for 'ale within the city limits which may be bought in large loss at a price which will double itself immediately if the land is sold at retail in small lost. That is no fairy shory, but the plain invariabled growth. The closest investigation is invited and desired.

Senator Frank Piettgrew now in Washington, is willing to suswer any inquiries recarding the future of Slong Falls, will gladity receive any one wing one there to inquire or he will reply any questions addressed to him by mait to 1,255 Broadway. New York ettr.

Dominico de Luce, the janitor of the tenement at Mottetreet, reported at the Elizabeth street station at 3 A. M. yesterday morning that there was an offensive oder from a room on the ten floor of the building. Roundsman O'Brien went with him to the house and Roundaman O'Brien went with him to the house and burst the door open. On the floor lay the brdy of Lee Link with a pool of blend near his head, which reside against a stove. Deputy Coroner Wes on found that he had thed of consumption, and that the blond was the result of hemorrhage.

Lee had been a laundryman, but for ten months bad been too sick to work. He had no friends, and some Mott street Chinamen raised a subscription to bury him in the Universe leen to the bedy was taken yesterday afternoon.

The Pasteur Institute was quiet yesterday. Only one new patient was received, a girl * years old, who had een bitten on the shoulder by her bet dog She is loing well. A boy who has received several inocula doing well. A boy who has received screen inocula-tions will be discharged to day. Little Edna Giauman of Jersey City, whose leg was so hadly bitten by a tuli-dee passed a quiet night, and is improving. Dr Gibber received a telegram from Ashland, N., yestedby informing him that are followed to be the seed of the company of the company of the company of the slaw was informed that two boys of Cincinnati had started for this city to be inoculated.

Says He Didn't Try to Bribe Mayor Gleason. John H. Ratjen, proprietor of the saloon 81 Vernon avenue, Long island City, denied yesterday that he at-tempted to bribe Mayor Gleason to renew his license. He says he went into the Mayor's private office in Front street on Friday night to talk the license question over with the Mayor. The moment he sated the object of his visit he said the Mayor used abusive language toward him, and finally put him out of the office by force. Mayor Gleason says Katjen oliered him money.

Vielded to the Hat-racktion.

From the Chicago Tribune.

There had a delightful evening," he said, as he took his hat and rose to go. "May! call said; "he said, as he took his hat and rose to go. "May! call said; "he said with a blush, "I shall be good to go to hat rack a reflection of the roguesh girl siyly throwing a kies at him, and he turned back." I must have that in the original package, "he whispered.
